MEDIA RELEASE

GROUP MANAGER GOVERNANCE APPOINTED

The Norfolk Island Regional Council General Manager, Lotta Jackson, is pleased to announce that Lisa Jackson, has been appointed as Group Manager Governance for the Norfolk Island Regional Council and commenced on 5 July 2016.

Lisa was born in Bowral, NSW and moved to Canberra in her teens, where she completed her education and began her career in the public service. She has over 30 years public service experience with 26 years in the ACT Government. Her public service experience has been in governance, project management and change management for the then ACT Chief Minister's Department, the ACT Justice and Community Safety Directorate, and the ACT Shared Services agency. Lisa moved to the Australian Bureau of Statistics in 2012 and then to the Department of Agriculture and Water Resources where she was responsible for whole-of-department change projects.

Lisa holds a Post Graduate in Public Administration from University of Queensland, and an Advanced Diploma in Program and Project Management and a range of certifications in IT, work, health and safety, and policy development.

Lisa's personal interests include politics, preserving nature and culture, particularly in the South Pacific region. She enjoys drawing and art, mountain biking, yoga, cooking, good red wine, and spending time with friends and family, particularly her three beautiful children and three grandchildren.

'Whilst we do have the same surname, there is no connection between the two of us. I have enjoyed working with Lisa this week and I warmly welcome her to the Group Managers' team. She joins Bruce Taylor, Group Manager Services and John Van Gaalen, Group Manager Commercial Hub. John will commence later this month.

'The management team of the Council has a lot to achieve to meet the objectives in the draft 2016-17 Operational Plan, and I look forward to reporting to the community on the progress and completion of works and activities in due time,' Ms Lotta Jackson said.
