A special offer from Norfolk Island Tourism and Poinciana Cottages to Australia's Mining Heroes

Norfolk Island Tourism and Poinciana Cottages have teamed up to offer Australia's mining heroes, Brant Webb and Todd Russell, the opportunity to fly from Launceston to beautiful Norfolk Island with their wives for an eight day "second honeymoon".

"We can offer the two happy couples the opportunity to rekindle their relationships in absolute privacy," said Poinciana Cottages' Jackie Pye. "And with separate cottages on offer we can promise Brant and Todd they won't have to sleep together the whole time."

A volcanic outcrop in the Pacific 1600km east of Sydney, Norfolk Island is one of the most remote communities in the world.

Poinciana Cottages are fully self-contained units offering peaceful valley views just five minutes walk from the island's tiny shopping centre.

Included in the offer is a medium-sized automatic car sponsored by Aloha Rent a Car and the following tours kindly provided by Les Quintal's Bounty Excursions:

- Norfolk Discovery Tour – essential orientation tour for all visitors
- Convict Ruins Tour - journey through historic Kingston learn about the convicts and Norfolk's brutal history
- Fish "Awas Way" - join two island families at their cliff top homes for a traditional island feast
- Progressive Dinner - meet the locals in their island homes and enjoy a delicious 4-course dinner
- Breakfast Bush Walk – bring your walking shoes and enjoy the bridal track and breathtaking coastal views followed by a hearty breakfast.

Offers valid for 12 months from May 9, 2006. For general information on Norfolk Island visit www.norfolkisland.nf
