Agents can now book Norfolk Air direct and score higher commissions

For the first time travel agents can now directly book flights to Norfolk Island on Norfolk Air – and gain double commission for all tickets booked until the end of May.

Norfolk Air's website www.norfolkair.com now includes a button that enables travel agents to register and start booking flights from Sydney, Brisbane and Newcastle direct.

“This is a major breakthrough for our agent support base and the island because agents previously had to book via the Qantas side of the inventory”, said Norfolk Air General Manager Ewan Wilson. “Once they are registered, agents can book any flight on the web using their client’s credit card for payment”.

“To celebrate this great new initiative, agents are being offered a generous commission rate on all bookings made until the end of May and a free airline ticket for every 20 passengers booked during the same period. After the end of May, the commission rate will return to the normal retail level”.

Mr Wilson said that the bonus ticket offer does not include applicable airline taxes.
