

NorfolkAir Newcastle service starts with sellout flight

NorfolkAir has announced that the first flight of the new service from Newcastle to Norfolk Island has been sold out. NorfolkAir commences flying the new service on Monday 7 May, subject to regulatory approval.

NorfolkAir General Manager Ewan Wilson said today that there were also encouraging bookings for subsequent flights in both directions. "We are thrilled at the reaction of the Newcastle community to NorfolkAir's latest venture", Mr Wilson said. "We have also received enthusiastic support from Newcastle Airport management and the travel industry in Newcastle, the Central Coast and Hunter regions".

Mr Wilson said that the Newcastle service would operate each Monday and that forward bookings were now open through travel agents and on the NorfolkAir website at www.norfolkair.com.
